About Chaparral Ice
Chaparral Ice is Austin’s premiere ice facility located at the heart of Northcross Center. As the only NHL regulation-size rink and full-service pro shop open to the public in the city, the center caters to all skill levels across nearly every sport or show on ice. For over 20 years, Chaparral Ice has provided a first-class ice experience for the Austin community, no matter the activity. The center, now owned by Ryan Raya, has fostered a community of its own as a longstanding host of ice sports, from amateur hockey to its association with Cedar Park’s Texas Stars. Today, the facility is a gathering place for communities of figure skaters, hockey fans, kids’ camps and snow-shy Texans looking to escape the summer sun.
